“Repeal of Vagrancy Act 1824

(1) The Vagrancy Act 1824 is repealed.

(2) In this section –

“the 2014 Act” means the Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014;

“begging” means asking for gifts on streets or in other public places (for which purpose it is immaterial whether gifts are of money or in kind, whether they are expressed as gifts or as loans, and whether a person asks expressly or impliedly, by displaying receptacles for donations or otherwise; but “begging” does not include soliciting donations to a registered charity with the express written authority of that charity);

“registered charity” means a charity registered under section 30 of the Charities Act 2011, or exempted or excepted from registration under or by virtue of that section; and

“sleeping rough” means sleeping (or making preparations to sleep, or possessing bedding or other equipment for the purpose of sleeping) on streets or in other public places, or in places or structures not designed for human habitation.

(3) The following principles are to be applied in the exercise of powers under the 2014 Act –

(a) begging or sleeping rough does not in itself amount to action causing alarm or distress (in the absence of other factors);

(b) policing and other enforcement action should balance protection of the community with sensitivity to the problems that cause people to engage in begging or sleeping rough; and

(c) powers under the 2014 Act should not in general be used in relation to people sleeping rough, and should be used in relation to people begging only where no other approach is reasonably available.

After Clause 62 - continued

- (4) A constable or other person exercising functions under the 2014 Act, or considering whether to exercise functions under that Act, in connection with a person who has been, or may have been, involved in begging or sleeping rough, must consider whether the person could be referred to public authorities, or charitable or other persons, for help in addressing the problems that cause them to be involved in begging or sleeping rough.
- (5) The Secretary of State must issue guidance to local authorities and police forces about the implementation of subsections (3) and (4).
- (6) Local authorities and police forces must—
 - (a) have regard to the guidance; and
 - (b) take reasonable steps to provide education and training designed to ensure consistent and effective implementation of subsections (3) and (4).
- (7) Before issuing (or revising) the guidance the Secretary of State must consult—

 - (l) in section 48(2) of the Forestry Act 1967, the words “or against the Vagrancy Act 1824”;

- (9) This section extends to England and Wales only.
- (10) This section comes into force at the end of the period of two months beginning with the date of Royal Assent.”

Member's explanatory statement

This new Clause would repeal the Vagrancy Act 1824 and establish that begging or sleeping rough is not itself criminal; it would require police officers to balance protection of the community with sensitivity to the problems that cause people to engage in begging or sleeping rough and ensure that general public order enforcement powers should not in general be used in relation to people sleeping rough, and should be used in relation to people begging only where no other approach is reasonably available.
